

When it comes to having
a passion for healing,
the doctors of St. John Health wrote the book.

*D*octors are taught to heal the body, but it takes a special type of person to heal the spirit. As physicians of St. John Health, you not only are experts in clinical excellence, but you also show the depths of your humanity daily with every patient you treat. Your dedication to comforting both the body and spirit constantly shows through in your passion for healing. For this, we thank you. You inspire us all.
